The VCD and DVD video editing tool allows you to add or remove video clips to create your own DVD. The application has a very simple interface, and can be used quickly. You have access to the main panel which consists of several columns: First, you will see the source files, where you can import them. Then, there are the files that are already loaded and ready to be converted. You can also view the list of temporary files, the conversion process and the progress. You can set the format of your output VCD or DVD discs (VCD, SVCD or DVD) and the resolution. The last column contains a preview of the clip. After converting the clips you can burn them on a blank disc, and you can also save them as a file or delete them.
