You can download the latest version on a Mac using either the Mac App Store or the Adobe website. As always, check out Chapter 16 to see what options are available.

The problem is that when the year view is clicked, the other views are not updated. I'm not sure how to refresh the views... A: Try something like this: `var calendar = new Calendar({ //... other Calendar options }, "#calendar"); calendar.on({ yearClick: function() { calendar.startYear(calendar.view.year); calendar.endYear(calendar.view.year); }, monthClick: function() { calendar.startMonth(calendar.view.month); calendar.endMonth(calendar.view.month); } });` Where you bind to the year and month views you will need to define the behaviours used by the Calendar widget.
