Today my son told me that he doesn't like Sonic and I told him that I wouldn't bother giving him Sonic games. I have a number of other games for him on my PS3 and Xbox 360, but for the most part we keep them hidden. When we get a chance to play something together it's in front of a TV and never comes out because, well, he doesn't like Sonic. I looked at him and said to him that maybe next time, maybe we could get Sonic and Mario Brothers or something. It almost feels like I'm making it up as I go along. I'm happy to have an imaginary friend. My kid is growing and I'm happy for him. I have a good feeling about this year. Today is the last day of the year. It's been a great year. She has offered to help me with my blog, but I turned it down because I'm such a bad blogger. She likes to plan out meals and even makes me cook things. I'm glad for that, but I need to get the kinks out of the way. I'm not sure if I'll have time to blog or not. I know that I will get things wrong, but I try to keep things simple. If you get something wrong, it means you tried hard, but had a bad day. If you had a bad day, it means someone helped you get better. I just realized that this is my last post before the transition to a new website. I am creating the new site and will handle my blog myself. There's no real reason for this transition. I just want to do a big cleanup and make sure I have a place to put up my paintings. I have made some changes to my site. There is one thing that bothers me. I look at the domain, playwinder.com, and I know that it's wrong. I look around at the rest of the site and I know that it's not as long as it can be. I changed it
