Q: How to design a model in d3.js that map a vector to a data-graph? I am trying to translate a vector into a graph in d3.js. I have two data objects:

num_panel items_map
num_panel has a length property which corresponds to the number of data points in items_map. This is precomputed prior to running the D3 program.
I have tried the following: var data = d3.range(10000).map(fu nction(x){ return {x:x}; }); // build the actual graph var graph = d3.select('#graph')
.selectAll(".item") .data(data)
.enter()
