Adobe Flash Player Timeline ActiveX Control Example A: You may have to disable the sandbox to run Flash apps in Internet Explorer. Settings Security Disable Active Scripting Here's a write-up of the issue you're facing: In conclusion, IE11 doesn't recognize that a Flash app is running inside another app (like a website) because it doesn't allow it. (Newser) – Roger Clemens won't be spending his winter break in Dallas, I'm guessing, since the New York Mets are one of three teams reportedly pursuing the right-hander. Clemens is scheduled to go to Florida on Tuesday, per Newsday. The Mets are being represented by Gary Rubin, the agent for two-time Cy Young winner Tom Glavine. As the third team, possibly the Dodgers, prepared to submit its qualifying offer to Andrew Miller, the Brewers are certain to do the same for Zack Greinke. MLB.com has the Dodgers in the lead, per a source. The Brewers are more likely to add a third starter if Greinke is in the Dodgers' plans. This past off-season, they added a "terrific glove" in right-fielder J.J. Putz and signed old-time Met Pete Rose. They paid $2.9

million for Rose, a situation in which you can pay a lot, or you can pay nothing. MLB will be the only one. Greinke would sit on a team that lost 100 games last season, then traded their best player. Of course, trading Braun has turned out better than trading Pujols. LOSER Jan 24, 2013 2:02 PM CST Roger Clemens may be one of the most talented pitchers in the history of the game, but he is about to reach the end of his career. He is 48 years old and has been a starter since he was 20. I think it is safe to say that most pitchers enter their 50s and 60s as starters. However, he likely won't be able to do so because of the cumulative damage that is done to a pitcher's arm. He should be pitching in the AAA level
