The commander has to take care of the crew, be in charge of the ship and lead them. Crew has 4 parts: Commander, Technician, Medic, Soldier. The staff is divided in 4 part. Commander (Main role), Technician (Tech), Medic (Medic), Soldier (Weapon). Technician: During the war the colonists and the council have modified the war spaceships for the new roles. The technology is important to build your crew, and to construct a new spaceship you need a technology pack to make the improvements. TechPack: In the beginning of the game the tech pack doesn't exist, so players must find the technology by fighting in different areas. After the first 4 planet you will have the capacity to construct a tech pack, you will be able to get a special tech pack if you defeated a farlight commander. This tech pack will have a chance to be more powerful than the initial tech pack. The tech pack will give an amount of technics based on the damage to the ship that could reach the part of the ship that need technics, for example a tech of radar (100% damage) will provide the crew radar and scan enemies. The tech packs may have more or less technics. BattleTechics: When attacking in enemy territory, the crew can consume techics to use a special ability. Techics are given by the end of a battle so players can use a techics or not before it is already there. Currency: The currency to buy things is mainly Gold coins, the cost is very low. There are 2 currencies: Normal and special packs. Special pack is more powerful than normal packs, and also costs more to buy. The special packs includes technics, weapons, crew, etc... Spektrum Medium - The Horsepower Jambor If it's happening in the aviation world, there's an opportunity to get your hands on it. If you're a Spektrum enthusiast, chances are you've already learned the basics of using their radios and might be looking for more. For the rest of us, whether there's a product to be had is another story, so this post will summarize the Spektrum small-form harness radios and determine whether they are worth having. The small-form radios are a great option for anyone interested in getting into RPV flying with a Spektrum radio. Many of them allow for fly-by-wire commands with a very similar feel to a proper heated FPV setup with a high-frequency video feed. Spektrum readily offers user-friendly, free eGuides that detail the latest firmware for each radio. Many other manufactures don't really provide any support or don't offer any that even remotely compare to Spektrum in terms of documentation and support, making it a worthwhile hobby. There is a lot of other stuff available for them, too, from electrically heated grips to specialized antennas. Depending on your personal needs, a Spektrum might be exactly what you're looking for. The Spektrum Medium Plus - The Best Value If you're wondering what the best Spektrum radio is, the answer is, ironically, the Spektrum Medium Plus. It has enough horsepower to do almost all the things you might ever want a radio to do and still includes a real AM/FM radio. For those looking for a very simplistic all-in-one radio, this one is a winner. Design & Construction The Spektrum Medium Plus is at home in the cockpit of an airplane as well as the cockpit of a rocket. Most hangable LEDs, both remote-mounted and those included in the harness, have doubled in brightness for the latest Spektrum editions of Spektrum Light Effects. The radio has integrated 360° viewing antennas for all of its radios, providing the same kind of image quality associated with the AR700, AR10, AR1500, and AR1500XL. The Medium Plus is a relatively cool radio that's pretty comfortable to wear for hours at a time. Spektrum doesn't
