Total Commander 7.0.50726 Full Crack.The present invention relates to an improved device for protecting a blade of an electrical switch against inadvertent contact with its operating parts. It is known that household appliances, such as cooking and coffee-making appliances, can be fitted with a switch which can be actuated by means of a hand knob which is located on a side wall of the appliance, e.g. in the vicinity of the heating elements in case of a cooking appliance. The hand knob is usually secured to the edge of the wall on which the hand knob is mounted by means of a hinge, and the hand knob can be swung into a position in which it is protected from contact by the hand of an operator. Such hand knobs are conveniently fitted to the cooking appliances in order to facilitate the control of the operation of the cooking appliance during cooking. The hand knob is usually provided with a cover of plastics material which protects the operating parts of the switch from wear due to friction with the hand of an operator. The cover can be formed with a ledge or lip intended to bear against the side of the hand knob when the switch is in the closed position and is moved into the open position. The lip of the cover can be formed from a flexible plastics material so as to have a yieldable action. It is however necessary that the lip is resiliently deformable and that the cover has a sufficiently large wall thickness to ensure that it can sufficiently protect the switch. A blade that is intended to cut off the electricity to the heating element or other elements in the appliance should not be pressed directly against the switch when it is closed, since otherwise the blade can be damaged. It is accordingly an object of the present invention to provide an improved switch protection device which has a two-part construction and will ensure protection against damage to the switch in the event that a hand knob 6d1f23a050
